Chanoso's and Oishii Restaurants celebrate Earth Hour for 5th consecutive year

Windsor, ON – Chanoso's and Oishii Restaurants in downtown Windsor will celebrate Earth Hour 2012 on Saturday March 31 at 8:30pm by turning off their lights and reducing all non-essential electrical power for one full hour.

Chanoso's and Oishii Restaurants are encouraging Windsor-Essex residents to join the crusade in support of climate change initiatives, and are inviting patrons to experience an enchanting candlelight dinner complete with live entertainment by Jake Van Dongen and cold, raw food menu selections such as Cucumber and Tuna Rolls, and Apple and Avocado Walnut Salads. The chefs will power down in the kitchen too by employing preparation and cooking techniques that consume less energy while increasing the nutritional value of the raw food menu selections.

"Earth Hour offers us an opportunity to pitch in, do our part and help raise awareness of the need for climate change action," said Mat Mathias, co-owner of Chanoso and Oishii Restaurants. "We're appealing to the community to support climate change initiatives and the long-term sustainability of our environment."

Earth Hour 2012

Organized by the World Wildlife Fund, Earth Hour is a global event held annually on the last Saturday of March. Earth Hour originated in Sydney, Australia, in 2007. Last year, Earth Hour realized the participation of millions of people world-wide who united to show their support for climate change action by turning off their lights for one full hour. The movement symbolizes that collectively mankind can create a more sustainable planet for current and future generations. Learn more at www.earthhour.org
